To _____

Today I write these words to you from the deepest part of my heart. There is not a single day when I do not think of you, of the beautiful moments we shared, and of all the love you gave me without asking for anything in return. I want to thank you for:

I want to ask your forgiveness for:

I want to tell you that:

Although your body is no longer here, I know your spirit remains by my side. I honor you, I celebrate you, and I carry you with me in every step I take. Our love does not end here. It lives in every memory, in every breath of love, in every lesson you left with me. You will always be part of me. I love you with all my soul, and I will always love you.

With all my love, _____

Our love is eternal
